SAN FRANCISCO HINTS ANNEXATION HERE

Letter From Green To S. F. Examiner

(Ed. Note: The following letter was forwarded to the San Francisco Examiner by Paul Green, city councilman and former mayor of this city. We believe it gets to the heart of the matter, which has heretofore been garbled and twisted a'l out of proportion.)

December 30, 1952

Editor, S. F. Examiner
3rd & Market Sts.
San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Sir:

It was with interest that I read your front page story in today's issue of the Examiner wherein I was astonished to learn that the S. F. Board of Supervisors had allegedly moved to accomplish the annexation of "Broadmoor" and "Westlake," just across the San Mateo County line.

For the information of the Board of Supervisors and your reporter, neither of whom have apparently taken the trouble to investigate the situation in detail, please be advised that there is no uninhabited and unincorporated area in San Mateo County, along Skyline Boulevard, which is contiguous to the City and County of San Francisco. The City of Daly City extends to the Pacific Ocean. And, while Broadmoor (south of Daly City) is an unincorporated area, Westlake, one of the finest developments in America, lies entirely within the corporate limits of Daly City—one of our Councilmen, Joe Verducci, lives there.

Without attempting to go into the merits of possible annexation of these areas, as reported in your current issue, it should be pointed out that "annexation" means the absorption of unincorporated area. Merging of two (Continued on Page 2)

Application from Col. Richard H. Bridgman to establish an auto court on Skyline boulevard will also be heard.

Also on the agenda is the proposal of A. Antonchuk to re-subdivide lots 40-49, excluding lot 46, in Bella Vista terrace.

Supervisors To Seek Broadmoor, Westlake

LOCAL, COUNTY OFFICIALS SAY PLAN PRACTICALLY IMPOSSIBLE

A San Francisco board of supervisors move made early this week to "peacefully" annex Westlake and Broadmoor seems to have little foundation, according to local and county spokesmen.

County Clerk John A. Bruning said the action wouldn't be possible unless the entire county approved.

He explained that first the annexation would have to pass in the areas concerned, Broadmoor and Westlake. Then, he said, the matter would have to be put to a vote of the entire county.

The San Francisco board also called upon its county, state and national affairs committee to investigate possible annexation of uninhabited land in San Mateo

Donations to the St. Vincent de Paul Society's Christmas fund are still coming in, according to Peter Markovich, who headed the volunteer citizens' committee appeal on behalf of the fund.

The Society and Markovich acknowledged with gratitude additional contributions from the following beneficiaries:

Timossi Motors, Peter Conci, Coast Engineers of the Telephone Co., Coffee Club Committee of Telephone Employees of 333 Grant avenue, Frank Bach, Lions Club of Daly City, Mrs. E. Whitney, Mrs. L. Halversen, American Legion Ladies Auxiliary Post 410, and Vincent Moran.

along Skyline boulevard, including San Francisco water department's Crystal Springs properties.

The county clerk said he thought any move of this sort would be impossible, since strip annexations were made illegal recently by an act of the legislature.

A. L. Desmond, president of the Westlake Improvement association, said the first he knew of the annexation plans was when he read of them in the paper.

Resolution Passed For Re-Routing Of Skyline Boulevard

The state highway commission has passed a resolution calling for a new freeway which will incorporate Skyline boulevard and Coast highway No. 56, according to a letter received by the city.

The letter, from B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer, asked that the city refrain from any future road building or subdivisions that might interfere with the new freeway.

The new route, to be built at an estimated cost of $3,000,000, will start at Daly City and will follow closely along the present Skyline route. Two clover-leaf patterns will be included in the freeway. Tentative plans call for widening of the planned freeway to six lanes eventually.

On building of the freeway, the present coast route will be abandoned, probably to the county, according to the state highway commission.

The state commission met in Daly City on Nov. 12 to hold a public hearing on the relocation of Skyline boulevard and the abandoning of the coast highway.

Stolen Car Brought To Insurance Co.

Unwary car thieves last week drove their stolen vehicle virtually into the hands of the law.

On Wednesday, Dec. 24, Louis C. Higuera, 187 Prague, telephoned his insurance company at 6748 Mission to report his '49 model car had been stolen the previous night.

Receiver of the call, Fred Martin, dutifully took down the license number, model and other important data so he could make out his report.

About that time a youth entered the office and asked if the owner of the car parked outside was in the office. The youth explained his car wouldn't start and asked if the person parked in front of him could move. Martin said he would move the car, belonging to one of the secretaries in the office.

As Martin entered the secretary's vehicle, he happened to notice the stalled car corresponded to the description of the stolen car.

He also checked the license and saw that the first few figures were the same.

Pretending he had forgotten the keys, he went back into the office, called the police, then came back out and started the car up slowly.

Just as he pulled the secretary's car away from the curb the police arrived, much to the bewilderment of the youths in the stolen car.

The car thieves had planned on everything, except parking in front of an office that contained the only person in town who could identify the car.

Brunswick Wall Collapses

STORAGE HOUSE IS SPLIT IN HALF

A storage house and tons of rock, dirt and brick were strewn over Brunswick street extension Sunday when a supporting brick wall, three feet thick and 40 feet high, collapsed.

The 300 square foot brick wall on the east side of the Brunswick street extension, built by Brogado Paving company to brace the wall of earth left after the street had been cut out of solid rock, caved in at 8:20 a.m.

Four hours later a storage house left hanging on the brink of the wall broke loose and fell to the street.

The city awarded job of building the street to the Brogado company in November, 1951, for a low bid of $47,459.

Constant Slides

The job has been held up by constant slides of rock from the west side of the street. Robert Klassen, former Daly City engineer and now in that capacity for San Carlos, was supervising the job.

BERTETTA HOME WINS FIRST IN XMAS LIGHTING

First prize for outdoor Christmas house lighting in Westlake went to Fred Bertetta, who lives at 10 Wilshire court. Bertetta, who also won honors in the Lions home lighting contest, was awarded $100 and a cup.

Harley R. Appleton, 1 El Portal way, received $75 for taking second prize.

Third prize of $50 went to J. I. Rissardo, 102 Fieldcrest. Four other prizes of electrical appliances were also given. Winners of these were: K. D. Cummer, 85 Cliffside, fourth prize; Milton Reiterman, 294 Wilshire avenue, fifth prize; Stanley J. Burroughs, 98 Hillside, sixth prize; Richard P. Hughes, 11 Lake Vista avenue, seventh prize.

THE WALL CAME tumbling down on Brunswick street early Sunday morning and with it came one half of a storage house perched precariously at the brink of the wall. The extension, built by Brogado Paving company, has never been accepted by the city. Mrs. John Chase, who occupied an apartment at 198 Wellington street on top of the hill, said, "We have been expecting something like this for three weeks, ever since a crack in the wall was noticed."

No Traffic Fatalities In '52 for Daly City

FEW ACCIDENTS ON CHRISTMAS WEEKEND

At noon Wednesday Daly City remained one of the few major cities in the county without any traffic fatalities for the year 1952.

Officer Henry Sundermann said that although the traffic through Daly City was heavy over the Christmas holidays, no severe accidents took place. Only minor collisions were reported.

Local officers were hopeful that drivers would exercise the same caution over the coming New Year's weekend.

REC DIRECTOR MEETS WITH STAFF MEMBERS

James Mason, recreation director, met with his assistants Monday night to outline future playground policy.

Items taken up were: Personal appearance, personal habits, public relations on playground, bringing all children into activities, work schedule, dealing with individual children, comments in relation to rough playgrounds.

Those present besides Mason were Ed Mosconi, playground supervisor; Lorraine Cady, Leo Selmi and Frank Ingersoll, playground leaders.

LARGEST TRAFFIC CHECK HELD HERE

In the largest traffic safety check every held in Daly City 55 drivers were listed as having defective lights, eight with invalid operators' licenses and six others with mechanical defects.

The check, held Tuesday, Dec. 23, included 837 vehicles and was made on Mission between Alp and Vista streets.

Officers Henry Sundermann and Les Bastido supervised the activity, with the aid of nine auxiliary police officers.

Sundermann said the check would not have been possible without the help of the auxiliary police.

San Francisco Hints Annexation

Lake for annexation to San Francisco," Desmond said.

Desmond said he believed the move might have originated in Broadmoor.

Not From Directors
James T. McKay, president of the Broadmoor Property Owner's association, said the idea of annexation to San Francisco had definitely not originated with the board of directors of the association.

He added that Edward T. Mancuso, supervisor who presented the annexation plan, "must not have been aware that Westlake is a part of Daly City."

He said that unless Westlake were also annexed, Broadmoor would remain an island in the county, therefore making it impossible for San Francisco to annex the area.

"In the past when the subject of annexation was brought up, we have investigated the prospects thoroughly," he said. At the next regular meeting of the association Jan. 8 the subject will probably come up for discussion, he said.

Might Follow
"If Westlake goes to San Francisco, there is a possibility that Broadmoor might follow," he pointed out.

"I don't believe the people will fall head over heels for San Francisco's plan right off," he added.

Asked if the municipal transportation now being furnished by San Francisco for the people of Broadmoor might have any bearing, McKay said: "I don't know whether San Francisco is using the bus service as a weapon, but it could be a deciding factor." He said that good bus service would be influential in many householders' decisions.

Erroneous Impression
City Administrator Dan Andersen said the San Francisco overtures toward annexation of Westlake and Broadmoor have little strength. He pointed out, as did McKay, that the board seems to be under the erroneous impression that Westlake is an unincorporated area. (Annexation stories carried in Metropolitan newspapers also seem to be written on the assumption that Westlake is not a part of Daly City.)

Andersen said that before Westlake could be annexed to San Francisco the matter would have to go before the voters of Daly City.

Daly City's Chamber of Commerce will work actively against any plan by San Francisco to annex Westlake, according to Bill Kennedy, president of the group.

To Arrange Meeting
San Francisco's Chief Administrative Officer Thomas A. Brooks was asked to arrange a meeting with representative householders in the Westlake and Broadmoor developments, and to report on what steps can be taken to bring the areas into San Francisco boundaries.

Mancuso said, "I know there are many people living in Broadmoor who would like to be annexed. In fact, I know of many people who bought homes in Broadmoor under the impression they were buying in San Francisco."

Henry Doelger, developer of the Westlake area, had no comment on San Francisco's enveloping plan.

Letter From Green To S. F. Examiner

incorporated areas is termed "consolidation."

Perhaps you may be interested in the story of "annexation" or "consolidation" of San Mateo and San Francisco counties.

Originally at the First Session, California Legislature, 1850, California was divided into 27 counties, of which San Francisco was one which included most of what is now San Mateo County. In 1856, spurred by conflict between city and county government, the legislature acted to cut off the peninsula from San Francisco, forming the City and County of San Francisco and creating the County of San Mateo.

Since that time, many persons have made the headlines by advocating amalgamation of the two counties, but all have failed. As long ago as 1923 amalgamation was attempted, but failed. You see, it so happens that the State Constitution required FOUR elections to accomplish such a move:

1. A majority vote in each incorporated city proposed for absorption.
2. A majority vote of unincorporated county area proposed for absorption.

3. A majority vote of the City-County sponsoring amalgamation.
4. A majority vote of the entire territory proposed for annexation.

In 1918 a "Consolidation Act" was passed by the Legislature, requiring that notice be given by the S. F. Supervisors to the legislative bodies of each city which San Francisco proposed to annex. So far as I know, this act is still on the books.

In 1927, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce called meetings for consolidation and, in 1928, the S. F. Bureau of Governmental Research recommended that (1) the two counties and incorporated cities consolidate under a city-county government (2) recommended a Charter creating Boroughs for local control of legislative matters, taxation and local administration, and (3) that any incorporated city voting against consolidation should retain its status as an independent municipality.

In 1928 a committee of 10 (5 from San Mateo and 5 from San Francisco) met and submitted a draft of a bill which was passed by the Legislature in 1929. It required that five per cent of S. F. electors could sign a petition asking the S. F. Board of Supervisors to give notice of intention of consolidation to those cities in San Mateo County which S. F. proposed to absorb, and requiring that the subject area be contiguous. It also stated that any newly-acquired area could not be taxed for indebtedness of S. F. unless agreed at an election. Further, the Act preserved fire districting, zoning laws, etc. in the areas to be absorbed.

Only recently, Mayor Elmer Robinson stated that he felt that the two counties might be joined, by creation of a Borough system patterned after that existing in New York City area, and there is undoubtedly some merit in his suggestion. Despite reports to the contrary, there is a great deal of cooperation and understanding between the City of San Francisco and the City of Daly City and the County of San Mateo and other peninsula cities. But no one has ever brought up a satisfactory plan, in detail, which suited the interests of the entire area. In San Francisco County, the comment has always been, "Why do these proposals for consolidation always come from San Francisco?"

Concerning Supervisor Mancuso's remark, as reported in today's Examiner, that "I know there are many people living in Broadmoor who would like to be annexed," let me say that I know a great number of people living in San Francisco who would like to be annexed to Daly City.

Perhaps that is the solution to the problem. Personally, I'm all for it.

Yours very truly,
Paul Green
Councilman
City of Daly City

A native of San Francisco, he had been a machinist for the Pacific Pump company.

He was a member of the International Association of Machinists, Local 284.

He is survived by his wife, Alice Gordon, his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy De Bella, and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Conors, and Mrs. Gus Rogo.

sen, because of blasting done to cut the street through solid rock. The half-block extension connects Wellington street and Hillside boulevard.

Dykman House
The house that was split in two by the wall's collapsing is owned by John L. Dykman, 169 Wellington street. A small section of the building, used as a storage house, is still standing on solid ground.

Dykman's attorney, Thomas G. Allen, said a suit totalling about $100,000 will be filed against the city of Daly City and the Brogado Paving company in the near future.

Gallen said a claim of $75,000 had been prepared earlier, but will be amended to a larger figure because of the collapse of Dykman's storage house.

Dykman, in his suit, will contend that the blasting of the solid rock caused the collapse of his shed and brought "great fear and anguish to the occupants of two homes on the street, and loss of property values," according to Gallen.

Although no one was hurt when the mountain of rubble came roaring down, many residents heard the crash.

Residents of the apartment house at 198 Wellington street owned by Dykman, heard the "avalanche," although the house was untouched.

Mrs. John Chase of the same apartment address said, "It sounded like an earthquake when the wall went. We have been expecting something like this for three weeks, ever since a crack in the wall was noticed."

Await Report
The city council met in caucus Monday night and agreed to await a full report from Klassen on the incident, according to Andersen. Klassen is finishing up the Brunswick street extension job as his last for the city.

Ray Brogado, president of the paving company, contacted Andersen Tuesday and asked that his firm be given $4000 more for work completed. To date the firm has been paid $43,000 of the full amount.

Must Approve
Andersen said the company could not be paid until the city engineer had approved the work.

The city administrator said the company has also asked for additional money to remove the rubble left on Brunswick after the wall's collapse.

Andersen indicated, however, that this was the responsibility of the paving firm.

Completion of the street extension, which has been anxiously awaited by the city, was held up for almost six months by a suit filed by the owner of the quarry land, H. H. Smith, former mayor of Daly City.

Those Northerners Are Knocking Again

San Francisco's board of supervisors, in their zeal to show constituents what ambitious fellows they are, have gone off on the deep end in their quest to annex Westlake and Broadmoor.

Without studying the legal intricacies involved in such a plan, they have had the intestinal fortitude to tell the public they intend to grab off certain areas in San Mateo county.

One San Mateo county supervisor summed it up adroitly when he said: "San Francisco can't even handle its own problems." He commented further that if any annexation was to be done, it would be San Mateo county moving into San Francisco, to take some of the burden off the latter's managerial shoulders.

Supervisor Edward T. Mancuso, who whipped up the brainstorm for acquisition of this county's and city's property, evidently hadn't given the idea much thought, since in presenting it to his fellow supervisors he read it straight from the editorial columns of a metropolitan newspaper.

We suggest he look further into his ambitious plan, study the laws of state, ratio and proportion to see what the odds are on its chance for approval, then retire quietly to his board of supervisors chair and dream up some new acquisitive plan, perhaps one that would include a San Francisco suburban expansion.

We Hope It's a Blessed Event

The city of Daly City has a big event awaiting it—1953.

Number one on that list, as far as the city council is concerned, should be some decisive action in regard to this city's conspicuously vacant community center.

A concerted effort—that doesn't include gobbledygook about referring it to this and that group, further investigation of the budget, a report from the whosis committee, ad infinitum—should be made to bring about use of the building by the people of the community, the people who even now are still paying for the building.

Another big event should present itself in 1953—a reduction of the ruinously high taxes.

The state, via George Reilly, has arbitrarily reassessed this area, with the result that taxes here are so high that even the county tax collector has expressed disbelief in their soundness.

A tax study that has begun in Westlake should be only the beginning. Property owners in the area should follow suit and make enough noise so that the state bureaucrats, who sit in ivory towers of questionable whiteness, will take notice.

The year 1953 should see the beginning of a 3,000,000 gallon reservoir on the west side of Daly City. Arthur J. Bodien, superintendent of the water department, has said that the water situation here will become drastic within the next year.

An ultra new primary sewage treatment plant, estimated to cost more than half-a-million dollars, should be on its way before the close of next year. Money for this project will be in the form of a bond, issued with the approval of Daly City voters.

Another decision soon to come for the voters of Daly City will be the three-quarter million dollar school bond for the Jefferson elementary school district. If this bond is approved and the voters also approve participation in the $185,000,000 made available to school districts in California at the recent national election, there is a possibility that double sessions can be done away with when the curtain rings down on 1953.

The year 1953 should mean for Daly City, as have past years, another step in the progress forward to better education and recreation, better homes, more protection for life and property, better facilities for all and a sincere civic pride enhanced by good municipal government.

We hope that's what 1953 means to Daly City, and with the aid of the citizens of this city working for that goal, the prospectus shouldn't be far amiss.

Cut Away Some of The Fat

One of the biggest questions in the public mind today is: What will the new Congress do about taxes? To say that virtually everyone wants the tax burden eased is to state the obvious. The lawmakers are well aware of the general feeling on this subject. What can be done in the face of the Truman budget which they must work on, is not yet clear.

However, there should at least be a token reduction in taxes at once, followed by more substantial cuts as waste and extravagance are eliminated in Washington. The heavy outlays necessary to maintain and strengthen our defenses will require billions for years to come, but there is plenty of "fat" both in the military and non-military spending which can be cut away without harming anyone. Meantime, the efforts to eventually establish a ceiling on federal taxes should not be abandoned.

Such a ceiling, to be applied when conditions return to some degree of normalcy, would force more prudent use of the taxpayer's dollars. The new administration will be economy minded but future regimes might slip back into the tax-tax-tax, spend-spend-spend mania. There should be something to stop the slip.

To Accomodate The Influx

When construction statistics are compiled for the year just ended they are expected to show that it was the second greatest home building year in the Nation's history. Approximately 1,100,000 dwellings were started during the 12-month period. This compares with 1,396,000 in 1950, the all-time high, and 1,088,800 in 1951.

Predictions for 1953 are not extravagant, but it is generally believed that the million mark in home building will again be reached. If it is, it will be the fifth consecutive year.

Dwelling construction in California has been exceptionally heavy. In fact, over a period of several years more homes have been built in our State than the combined total of the next highest three or four states. So heavy has the demand been for home financing, that although hundreds of millions of dollars have been loaned, many banks have been up to their maximum in such loans over a considerable period of time. Contractors and building tradesmen have also found it difficult to keep up with construction demands.

Reports from some areas indicate that homebuyers are becoming more price-conscious and this may cause greater concentration on the construction of the more modest types of dwellings. Anyway, building in California seems destined to continue active if for no other reason than to accommodate the 1,000 or more persons estimated to be moving into the State every day.

It's Less Receptive, Mr. Dies

Although Martin Dies of Texas, the former "Joe McCarthy" of the House, will return to Congress for the first time in some years he will find the atmosphere there less receptive to the careless accusations which were once his stock in trade as head of the Un-American Activities Committee. While the rooting out of subversives will be emphasized in the new Congress, there will be a demand for more facts and fewer unproved charges.

The Eisenhower Administration will certainly endeavor to curb the free-wheeling character attacks that make headlines and trouble, but not much else. Congressman Dies has already talked about "going after Socialists and all those who don't believe in our form of Government." Mr. Dies should be reminded that there is no crime in, not approving our form of Government. The crime lies in advocating change by force.

Most of us may not agree with Socialists such as Norman Thomas, but because we don't agree with them, or they don't agree with us, is that any reason to "go after" them? Calm down, Mr. Dies.

New Prominence for Californians

California's prominence in the new Congress will be more marked than ever before. Seven new representatives have been added to our delegation in the House of Representatives, giving us 30, the equal of Pennsylvania and second only to New York.

Besides this, the vice president will be from this state (the first in our history) and he is the man who presides over the Senate. Add to that the possibility that Senator William F. Knowland will be named Republican floor leader. Being on the right side of the political fence with the whopping 700,000 majority handed General Eisenhower on November 4 will not detract from the state's political prestige, either.

California's enormous population growth and its great wealth, together with its strategic position in relation to the Far East, are also factors in the position the state now holds in national affairs.

Well, it appears that even in the East California is no longer rated as a territory or a province of the United States but has been accepted into the Union at last. The first hundred years are the hardest.

Weather's "Cooler" in Mexico

When William O'Dwyer quit as U. S. ambassador to Mexico recently he confirmed rumors that he would remain in Mexico. There appear to be a number of reasons for his decision. Not the least of these is the fact that New York City, where he served as mayor, is still too "hot."

The various investigations of the crime-and-politics tieup which flourished during his regime has left too many unanswered questions. If he went back to New York he would be asked some of those questions. From all indications, he does not have convincing answers.

However, there are other reasons why he is remaining in Mexico. He has been tremendously popular down there. His recent resignation brought an outpouring of regrets from officials south of the border. It is said that the reason for his success as our ambassador was his genial way, devoid of the diplomatic stiffness, and his genuine effort to make the people of Mexico like him and understand Americans. He is to be commended on this service. We sincerely wish he might have served as well at home.

AROUND THE AREA

"Lung" Almost Fails

A power failure that blocked out a sizeable portion of southern San Mateo county last week almost cost Donald Heitman, 30-year-old polo victim, his life.

The respirator powering his portable lung ceased to operate on its main motor unit and firemen from Menlo Park fire district rushed to the Heitman home at 250 Alexander avenue, south of Redwood City, and stood by with an emergency 110-volt generator, while a feeble battery unit kept the respirator operating.

Menlo Park fire district deputy chief George Carter and fireman Charles Beldon responded to the call and stood by for more than an hour until power was restored. Heitman, who has been partially paralyzed since a year ago last September when he was stricken with polio, was only a month ago moved from Children's hospital in San Francisco to his home to be with his family at Christmas.

Chin Is In

Chin Bok Hing, 64, wealthy Oakland Chinese who ran a string of gambling houses in San Mateo county, one in Colma, was released on $3000 bail in San Francisco last week following his arrest on a deportation warrant issued the day before.

Chin, who was convicted Nov. 3 by a federal jury for income tax evasion, was arrested by immigration officers at the Bok Hing Trading company in San Francisco's Chinatown.

Bruce Barber, district director of the bureau of immigration, and naturalization, said Chin, who entered the United States in 1914, has never sought naturalization. Aliens are subject to deportation on conviction of morals crimes.

Ask Death Strip

San Bruno's city council decided last week that the "deadend death trap" at Junipero Serra boulevard and Crystal Springs road, which has been outside city limits, should be annexed to the city along with the 15-acre Parkside elementary school.

The intersection, long a constant source of trouble to highway district 10, the builders, has also been a source of bad feeling between the district and the city.

District 10 officials have told the council to stop writing to the state highway department asking action to the intersection since it isn't within city limits. Now the city has decided to take the intersection, thus giving city police authority to patrol the "death trap."

17-Year-Old Shot

An attempt to burglarize the Belle Haven market, Redwood City, resulted in the critical injury of a 17-year-old East Palo Alto youth.

The youth was shot by Deputy Albert Pinotti, who operates a special police patrol in the Redwood City area, as he attempted to escape capture.

The youth's 19-year-old companion was also captured. Pinotti said he was making a routine check of the market at about 2 a.m. when he noticed that the refrigerator door was open. Checking further, he thought he saw a movement inside the building. As he approached the front door, one of the youths ran out of the building, crashing through the partially-broken plate glass of the front door, by which entry had been gained.

After yelling "Halt" the officer fired a warning shot into the air and then fired a second shot, aiming at the legs of one of the youths. The bullet hit the boy, emerging in the lower abdomen.

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thurs., Dec. 31—Daly City police had a Christmas rush over the holiday weekend, handling a score of cases, among which were five automobile accidents, four charges of disturbing the peace, one petty theft, and one county violation.

Surprisingly few resulted in casualties, as only one or two minor injuries were reported. Two of the automobile accidents involved pedestrians struck by cars.

More intensive air raid drills, both city and state supervised, are in store for all civilian defense workers of this city in 1943. Arthur J. Bodien, head of the Civil Defense Council, announced this week as he described plans for the new year.

"We are getting down to business at our next regular meeting," Bodien said.

"We expect to have plenty of air raid drills starting soon," he added.

Now visiting with his parents in Daly City, after seeing action in the recent battle for Henderson field on Guadalcanal, Sgt. Clifford Fields of the United States Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fields, 68 Risel street, is here on thirty days leave from duty.

FIFTY YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Dec. 31—Otto Schramm of Beta street and William Bolger attended the funeral this week of Mr. and Mrs. Miles A. Sharkey of Redwood City, who were killed Friday when their automobile blew a front tire as they were en route to Salinas to visit relatives over the holidays.

While the skiing and skating in San Mateo is confined to the Truckee and other mountain regions, Daly City boys and girls are out on their roller skates during the holiday season.

Roller skate hockey, introduced in San Mateo last winter by Arthur Ryan, county director of recreation projects, is to be started here on Friday, when Adolf Fisher, of the Daly City WPA recreation project, will coach several teams of boys at the Vista Grande park. The paved upper area of the park will be used for this purpose.

Fred A. La Fortune, a former resident of Daly City and Colma passed away recently at the Stanford hospital. La Fortune was manager for the Safeway store in Daly City for two years and for the past several years he was a supervisor for the Safeway Stores, Inc.

La Fortune formerly lived at 198 Moltke street in Daly City.

At the regular meeting of the Colma volunteer fire department the following were elected to offices for the ensuing year:

R. Raggio, chief; J. Garibaldi, assistant chief; W. Ricconi, captain; C. Benedetti, lieutenant; W. Klemme, first assistant lieutenant; L. Balestra, marshal; G. Schenone, first assistant marshal; J. Franzosa, second assistant marshal; F. Garibaldi, secretary; P. L. Peterson, treasurer; A. Conserva, custodian and D. Funge, assistant recording secretary.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Dec. 30—Mrs. Wm. Hopman, Miss Helen Fry, Miss Florence McKendrick, Ted and George Hopman, spent Sunday in St. Helena, visiting Miss D. Hopman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barsi of Vale street had as their holiday guests Mr. and Mrs. J. Merlo, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. A. Zanetti.

Friday afternoon Bennie Haubrich, George Olmo and Victor Rossi Jr., son of Vic Rossi, participated in the rodeo staged at Kezar stadium. Young Rossi, known as the Glen Park cowboy, rode his beautiful Welsh pony. Bennie Haubrich rode a handsome bay horse, Nugget.

WRONG IDEA

An old idea that is just as wrong as it ever was is reported by National Automobile Club to drive at pressures lower than those recommended for the tires on the theory that it means better traction.

He and his family live at 415 San Mateo drive in Menlo Park.

ROUGH ROADS

If a car is taken over rough roads at high speeds for a considerable period, National Automobile Club reports the headlight adjustment is likely to be adversely affected. It pays to have the focusing and aiming of headlights checked regularly.

Broadmoor Center Is Scene for Gala Holiday Function

In one of the largest local holiday parties of the season, more than 400 Broadmoor home owners and their guests gathered at the Broadmoor community center for an open house Saturday.

Those attending were introduced by the many hostesses serving at the affair and a buffet luncheon with punch was served.

New Furniture
Guests spent the evening mingling among one another and viewing the $2000 worth of new furniture purchased by the Broadmoor Property Owners association for use in the center.

Purpose of the open house, according to James T. McKay, president of the association, was "to knit our area into a closely welded group and plan to initiate a series of social affairs for our members. McKay said that although parties for the children of the area had been held in the past, this was the first ever held for all the villagers.

More Open Houses
Maryann Read, director and secretary of the association, said that open house will be held every Saturday night at the community building. She explained that individual village groups could sponsor parties there on Saturday nights, but that all Broadmoor residents would be welcomed.

After the open house got underway Saturday, awards were presented to winners in the Broadmoor Christmas home decorations contest.

Hostesses
Hostesses who served at the occasion were: Stella Magoon (who also made favors), Rose Fisher, Hazel Eagleton, Alice Mayville, Betty Hood, Gladys Fries, Virgil Vint, Dorothy Manis, Nollie Hesskitt, Margaret Franklin, O'Hara Chapin, Margaret Bechtold, Miriam Burdick, Avis Pattison and Dorothy Goodwin.

Honorary hostesses were: Mona Baker, Alice Alexander, Gloria Cauchi, Leonora O'Neill, Peggy Ward, Helen Holman, Gloria Bellia, Ruth Hildebrand, Belva Temkin, Irene Thomas, Margaret Elliott, Nancy McKay, Marge Hanrahan and Helen Richardson.

Mrs. Cauchi and Mrs. Fisher assisted in decorating the table.

A centerpiece on the buffet table was a miniature community center made and decorated by Mrs. Read.

Co-chairmen in charge of the event were Joseph Belli and Mrs. Read.

Happy New Year to All!

U. S. Needs Civil Defense

VOLUNTEERS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR PROTECTING THE HOME FRONT

(This is the eleventh of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet, "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

All persons experienced in work having to do with health or medicine, others who can be trained in special weapons defense (against atomic, biological, and chemical warfare), are needed for the civil defense Health Service. Their big job will be to care for the injured, and protect the health of a city after an attack. In addition, many more volunteers will be needed for various duties under the direction of professional people, such as doctors and nurses, in the local civil defense organizations.

The Health Service also must have thousands of persons trained in more than just first aid who can be organized for definite jobs at first aid stations, and women volunteers who have taken courses in home nursing and nurses' aide. Men will be needed as litter bearers, ambulance personnel, hospital orderlies and attendants, supply handlers, and maintenance workers.

Defense against disease and gas warfare, and against radiological contamination will need extra food inspectors, and sanitation workers. Radiological monitoring teams will need teachers, or advanced students of physics and other related subjects, as team leaders, and high school graduates who have studied elementary physics, and radio repairmen, who can serve as members of such teams.

Other volunteers are needed for clerical work, to keep records of the ill, the injured, and the dead, to aid in the procurement of blood for the blood service of blood for the American Red Cross, and to be trained as assistants in laboratory work.

Unskilled Labor Used
Help is needed for such duties as washing laboratory glassware and mopping floors. In fact, no matter what you do, Health Service can use you in the vitally important civil defense work of saving lives.

If an enemy attacks one of our cities, many persons will find themselves without food, clothing, money, and shelter. The Welfare Service provides such things and aids in locating missing persons, caring for infants, the aged, and the infirm.

It also gathers and passes on news of people who are separated from their families, contacts relatives in other cities, refers families to places where they can get special help, and registers those persons who must have individual care.

Training Courses Available
Training courses, under competent instructors, are available in the various branches of this civil defense program. Women, by background and experience, are well qualified for both these services and are urged to take a special interest in them.

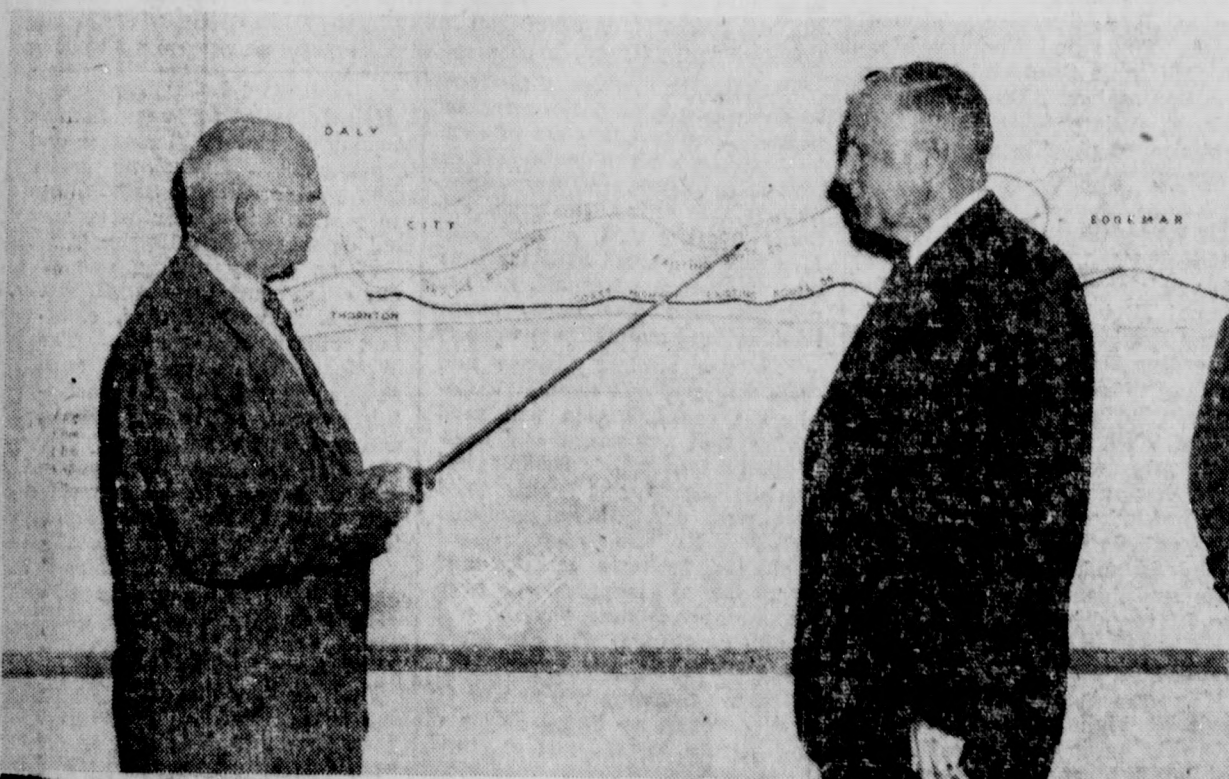

The Year 1952 In Pictures

AFTER A LONG period of waiting, bus service was finally made available to residents of Broadmoor and Westlake on Oct. 27. Here a muni painter outlines the route by painting in signs along the way.

SIX FAMILIES sued the city of Daly City in August, charging that street construction had denuded the hills of natural watershed, causing condition shown existing here on the 190 block of Frankfort street.

WITH STATE HIGHWAY commission chairman Chester Warlow looking on, E. W. Booker, highway engineer, points out the proposed relocation of Skyline boulevard. The state group met in Daly City on Nov. 17 and heard plans for relocation of the high-way and abandonment of the old coast route.

The days pass into weeks, the weeks to months, and here before us again we have the "birth" of the new year, 1953. Many events transpire in the course of a year, and these events become hazy or altogether forgotten in memory.

But the camera has a great faculty for "remembering," and the things it has observed go down in black and white. THE RECORD has compiled a few pictures that belong to the year 1952, not purposing to present a representative picture of all that has happened, but merely a pictorial panorama of some of the more noteworthy occurrences.

BOB SILVESTRI, Daly City resident, was the man of the hour to his many local friends and to golfers throughout the state when he captured the state amateur golf championship held in September. Silvestri had won numerous championships before but had never been able to come out top man in the state-wide tourney, which he had entered six years in a row. Silvestri won out on the 36-h. hold, defeating Bruce McCormick, twice state champ, one up.

WORKMEN REMOVE one of the poles that "got in the way" of a muni bus that rampaged down San Jose avenue minus a driver. The bus sheared off three power poles, blacking out a sizeable portion of Daly City for several hours.

THE FIRST BIG winter rain hit here Dec. 1, causing small torrents to swirl down hillsides, clogging drains and straining the city's drainage facilities to their limits. Little property damage was reported, however. Here a man-hole cover is "blown" off due to the heavy flow.

A HOST OF local and county civic leaders gathered Nov. 22 at a testimonial dinner to fete former mayor Paul Green, who had resigned his position two months earlier. Anthony Gaggero, present mayor, and others spoke of Green's accomplishments during his term of office.

END OF THE LINE for the "wayward bus" that careened down San Jose avenue Oct. 27 was this scene near Rice street. After causing various damage on its driverless journey the bus came to rest against a pole.

Pvt. John Zugar At Camp Roberts

Pvt. John F. Zugar of Daly City has been assigned to Camp Roberts, California, to begin his military training.

Pvt. Zugar, whose parents reside at 421 Vista Grande Avenue, has been assigned to Co. A 95th (Hvy) TK. Bn. at Camp Roberts.

The huge military installation, one of the largest Replacement Training Centers during World War II is now the home of the "Lucky Seventh" Armored Division and is located on U. S. Highway 101 about halfway between the cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Recognized as one of the best training centers for the Infantry soldier, Camp Roberts' instruction and training is the responsibility of a new system in the Army called Division Faculty. The instructors in this unit are selected for their initiative, ability, knowledge of military subjects and experience. They are combat veterans, college graduates, and former college and high school instructors. All must know their subject well in order to produce the best combat infantryman, which is Camp Roberts' primary mission.

Serviceman Reads About Daly City

Dick Drees, Daly City youth now stationed on Tern Island, Honolulu, is reading about all his friends at home now.

In a letter to THE RECORD received this week, Drees said, "On receiving a package from home this date (Dec. 20) I had the good fortune of finding one of your papers—it was a Christmas present in itself.

"Mail reaches us once a month so prompt mailing might get your latest paper out here with previous editions."

Drees will be sent a regular subscription of THE RECORD so that he can keep abreast of happenings in Daly City.

For those who wish to correspond with him, his address is: Dick Drees, 293-276 HM-3 Tern Island FFS CG LTS c/o Cdr. 14th CG Dist. Box 4010 Honolulu, T. H.

Uncle Sam Conducts Alien Registration

Uncle Sam will again take up a hitch in his security safety-belt at the outset of 1953 by calling for compulsory registration of all aliens on an annual basis as provided by the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, and at the same time assist all aliens in the processing of their problems.

The law requires all aliens who are in the United States on January 1, 1953, to report his or her current address to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization within the 30 day period between January 1 to 31, 1953.

Nationwide census of aliens, irrespective of status, sex or age, will be accomplished through the far-flung facilities of the Post Office Department. It was announced by San Francisco's Postmaster John F. Fixa.

Every non-citizen who is within the United States on the first day of January of each year shall, within 30 days following such date report his address to the Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service, and shall furnish such additional information as may be required by regulations.

Any alien who is temporarily absent from the United States during the reporting period, shall report his address within 10 days after his return to the United States.

Any alien who willfully or inexcusably fails to report as required is liable to be taken into custody and deported. In addition, imprisonment or fines may be levied before deportation.

Postmaster Fixa stated that Alien address report cards will be available at all branches of the San Francisco Post Office on January 1, 1953. They will not be available before that date.

CITIZENS OF DALY CITY went to the polls Oct. 28 and passed two bond issues, but turned down the $160,000 slated for completion of the community center shown here. The money was to have gone for heating, plumbing, landscaping and completion of other facilities. To date no further action has been taken toward readying the building for use.

WITHIN A PERIOD of three months, two youths were drowned in a lake in The Crocker Hills estate. The first youth, Larry Swale, was drowned on March 28. This, and accompanying photos, show county sheriff's and local officers in the grisly recovery of Swale's body. Another life was claimed by the lake on June 1 when Renald Grimesey was drowned there. His parents have filed suit against the estate for his death.

THE OUTDOORS

New Appointee

SAN FRANCISCO—Harley E. Knox, former mayor of San Diego and member of Governor Warren's commission on organized crime, is the newest appointee to the California Fish and Game Commission.

He replaces Harvey E. Hastain of Brawley, whose term expired last year.

The 53-year-old sportsman is a past president of the League of California Cities. He was elected San Diego councilman in 1939 and mayor in 1943. An Army veteran of World War I, Knox has been in the dairy business since 1919.

He will serve on the five-man commission without pay for a six-year term.

Open Deer Refuges?

SAN FRANCISCO—Public hearing to determine whether three deer refuges should be opened to hunting will be held by the Fish and Game Commission in January at the request of California sportsmen.

A proposal to open Refuge 1-M in Kern county will be discussed at 10 a.m., January 10, in the Bakersfield Inn, Bakersfield.

A 9 a.m. meeting on January 10 at the county court house in Red Bluff will air the future status of Refuge 1-G in Tehama county.

The Huntington Lake Refuge will be considered at a hearing to be held at 10 a.m., January 12, in the Power Building, Fresno.

Surveys of deer and their ranges have shown that the three refuges are no longer needed in the state's deer management program, the Department of Fish and Game asserts. Local sportsmen have requested the commission hearings to lay the groundwork for lawful opening of the refuges.

Hanging Around

SAN FRANCISCO—Some fish can establish records by doing nothing—by just hanging around.

One sand bass in particular. It was found hanging around Abrejos Point, Baja California, by a State Department of Fish and Game research crew aboard the motor vessel "Yellowfin." So it was tagged and returned to the sea. That was in 1950.

Two years later, a Mexican lobster fisherman recovered the fish. It was still hanging around Abrejos Point. While it had grown from 10½ to 12½ inches in two years, it apparently hadn't traveled a quarter-mile.

The department reports the lazy fish set a record for the longest elapsed time between tagging and recapture of a sand bass.

Wildlife Week

WASHINGTON, D.C.—National Wildlife Week will be observed from March 15 to 21 in 1953, according to an announcement from the sponsoring National Wildlife Federation.

Purpose of the annual event is to call public and official attention to dwindling natural resources which Americans have almost lost through neglect or abuse but which may yet be saved or restored by proper management.

Fined for Pollution

SAN FRANCISCO—The United Towing Company, Pier 14, San Francisco, has been fined $200 in the Federal court of Judge Donald F. Creedon for oil pollution at the Union Oil dock in Contra Costa county. Arrest was made by State Fish and Game Warden James Reuten.

Post Season Hunts

SALT LAKE CITY—Utah hunters are winding up a series of four "conditional" post season deer hunts in areas where winter range food is in extremely short supply.

The Utah Board of Big Game Control authorized the special hunting seasons "to bring the animals to the hunters' gun rather than see them die from starvation, killing by dogs and vehicles, or under control measures by property owners or Department of Fish and Game field men."

Keep Wood Dry To Stop Termites

Termites cannot exist without moisture and can be controlled by keeping excess water out of the wood parts of a house.

Keeping moisture from rising out of the ground is important. If a basementless house is built with a crawl space, the crawl space should be well insulated. Wood siding or framework should not be placed directly on a masonry foundation. Masonry and wood should be separated by a strip of damp-proof material.

ROOFING WEIGHTS VARY
Asphalt roofing is made in weights from 45 pounds to 325 pounds per square. A square is the amount of material needed to cover 100 square feet of roof area.

REMOVE MILDEW
Before mildewed surfaces are painted, they should be washed with an alkaline solution and rinsed with clean water.

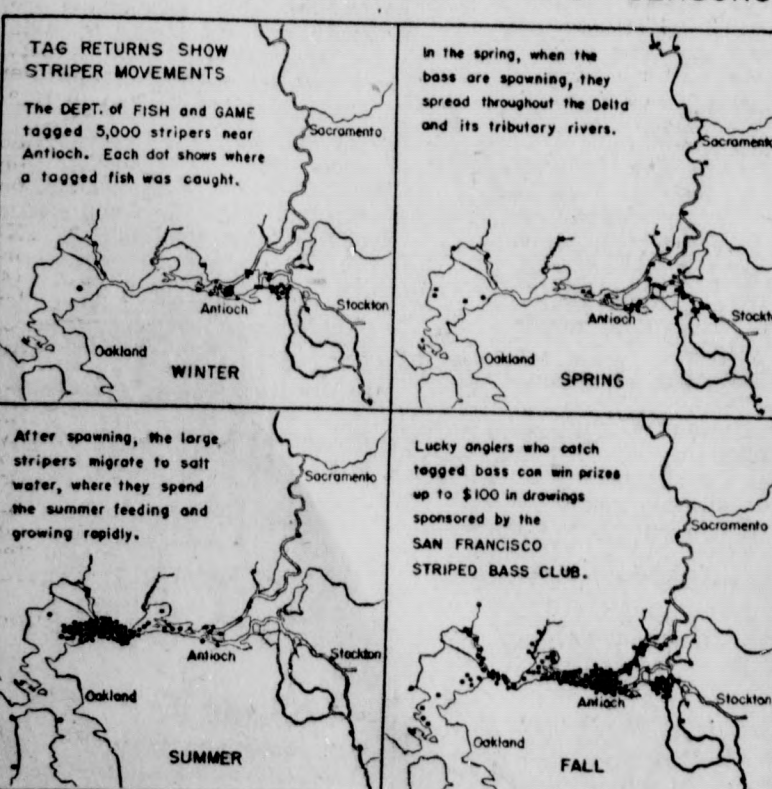

APPLY BRAKES GENTLY
Quick, positive braking means locked wheels and locked wheels slide. Sudden application of the brakes and consequent sliding of tires is a costly practice on a dry road but, National Automobile Club warns, when the roadway is wet and slippery it may end in disaster.

The ruby lily of the Pacific Coast Ranges is the most fragrant of all American wild lilies.

The fish were brought by truck from Long Beach, where the SCOFIELD docked. Steinhart Aquarium and the Academy's Museum Halls are open to the public every day of the year from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ralph's Cleaners To Play Thursday

Ralph's Cleaners, the first local team to enter the San Mateo county invitational basketball tournament, will play a practice game next Thursday night with Specialty Spring corp. of the industrial league in Redwood City.

The tilt, to be played at 8:15 p.m. in the Redwood City community center on Roosevelt street, will help round the local team in to shape for the tournament which opens Jan. 25.

To date the following players are listed on the Ralph's Cleaners roster: John Lucier, Doc Savage, Whitey Neechen and Bob Dyer. James Mason, recreation director, said an attempt would be made to lineup further practice games for the team.

Divorce Becoming Leading Industry

In competition with California's leading industries, divorce is rapidly moving toward the head of the list as a contender for top place in the multi-million dollar class. This was revealed today with release of figures by the Children's Bill of Rights, whose offices are in Beverly Hills. Their data show that this state's annual divorce bill totals almost a half billion dollars in direct costs to the husbands involved.

"From the standpoint of financial returns, divorce is the most lucrative business a California woman can get into," states Jack Lincke, executive secretary of the organization, whose headquarters are at 9538 Brighton Way in Beverly Hills. "There isn't another business a woman can enter without training or investment, dissolve the partnership at will and come out of it with as much money as she can get in a divorce court."

In summarizing the huge costs of this state's marital wreckage, officers of the Children's Bill of Rights have compiled figures from public sources which show that more than $60,000,000 a year is spent by the state's husbands for attorney's fees in divorce and related matters. Almost $80,000,000 is paid out in alimony and child support. Out-of-court settlements, transfers of ownership of real estate and a division of community funds accounts for the remainder of a total of almost a half billion dollars paid out annually by California husbands as the cost of wrecked homes. According to the officers of the Children's Bill of Rights, the corporation has been organized to intensively study the state's divorce problem which, they say, exceeds that of any other state in the nation. Data compiled by the firm is being supplied to groups of people throughout California who will sponsor corrective legislation in Sacramento in January.

The measures to be submitted will seek presently lacking protection for funds and homes awarded by a court on behalf of minor children. A second bill will require that courts grant children equal access to both parents following divorce. The latter measure is designed to stop the present

Leaky Roofs Cause Fires on Farms

A leaky roof can cause fire. That's what occurs on farms, where weather-tight roofing is necessary to keep hay from getting wet. Wet hay, which can ignite spontaneously, is a ranking cause of barn fires.

An economical way to apply new roofing to a barn, as well as any other pitched roof building, is to cover the old material with asphalt shingles. The fire-resistant asphalt shingles also lessens the danger of flying sparks.

Hay stored in a barn mow should never have a moisture content of more than 25 percent. Average content of a large quantity of hay should be 20 percent or less.

CLEAN INSIDE DECANTER
To clean the inside of a cut glass decanter, fill it with a weak ammonia solution and let it stand for several days. Repeat the process with fresh ammonia if necessary.

blurs vision and slows down reaction time.

PASS WHEN SAFE. Passing should be done only when it is possible to do so without endangering the lives of others and where there is room to get back in line.

KEEP DISTANCE. Keeping a safe and proper distance from the car ahead is a good way to keep out of trouble.

SIGNAL ALWAYS. Arm signals should be given with the full arm. The driver behind may not be a mind reader.

KEEP IN LANE. Driving in the right hand lane and using the left hand lane for passing only, is the law. It should always be strictly observed.

SPORTSMANSHIP. Courtesy when driving pays big dividends in safety. The Golden Rule is a good safety rule.

SKIDDING. A danger which can be reduced by slow driving on wet pavements or when sand or loose gravel is on the surface of the road. Sudden turns, sudden stops or too quick acceleration can cause skidding.

CONCENTRATION. Driving is a full-time job requiring the full attention of the person at the wheel.

SOBER DRIVING. Even a little liquor dulls the mental faculties.

It's a Lark to Park This Way
Since many motorists find parking is their biggest driving difficulty, the Orange Day, Gulf Oil house magazine, recently conducted street tests to find the most practical method. As a result, the editors recommend the steps below, claiming they will put even new drivers safely in to the curb in "one pass."

PULL UP PARALLEL to the car ahead of the parking space, preferably one foot and NOT MORE THAN TWO FEET away from it (check distance through your right door window). Stop when rear bumper of two cars are about even. Make sure road is clear to rear.

BACK UP SLOWLY, turning steering wheel as far right as possible. This swings car into parking space at about a 45° angle. When front seat is even with the other car's rear bumper (position above), straighten front wheels, still backing slowly.

AS YOUR RIGHT FRONT WHEEL comes opposite the other car's rear wheels, start turning steering wheel to left. When clear of other car's rear bumper, quickly complete turn of steering wheel to left as far as it will go. Back slowly as far as necessary to put your car "in" without hitting car to rear.

THIS SHOULD ALIGN YOU with curb in parking position. If not, straighten wheels and pull forward until aligned. Stop in center of space. Any difficulty with the method can usually be cleared up by a few minutes trial on a quiet street where the motorist can dismount and check his position against these diagrams.

REMEMBER SIGNAL
Rear view mirrors have not eliminated need for giving arm signals, reminds the National Automobile Club. Many a motorist forgets to signal. He looks in his mirror and sees nothing immediately behind and assumes that any maneuver may be made safely. The point overlooked in such a case is that the mirror does not show what is off to the immediate right or left at the rear of one's car.

court-created competition between a man and his former wife over the time and affection of their children.

Later in the proceedings Mrs. Williams broke down and sobbed. Scheduled to appear today are three more witnesses for Williams, all from Madera.

Nathan Coghlan is attorney for the defendant.

Tuesday Williams' wife, Irene, and daughter testified that either one or both of them had been with him on the dates the alleged acts took place. He could not have had any criminal contact with the girl, according to them.

At one time during questioning by the state's attorney, Brooks Ice, Williams' daughter replied in the negative before a question had been completed.

Monday the packed chambers of Judge William Sweeney's court heard the allegedly molested girl give the dates on which Williams was supposed to have committed the acts. Her father also testified against the defendant.

Williams, who is charged with criminally molesting an 11-year-old Daly City girl, has pleaded innocent to the charges brought against him by the father of the girl.

A FEW REMINDERS ARE GIVEN FOR SAFE DRIVING

Motorists feel they are well acquainted with the rules of safe driving but here are a few simple reminders from the National Automobile Club designed to make motoring safer and more enjoyable.

OBEY ALL TRAFFIC SIGNS. Be watchful for them and observe them fully. They are placed there for the motorists' safety.

PASSING ON HILLS. A most dangerous traffic sin. The double line is for the motorists' protection and should never be crossed unless so directed by a traffic officer.

DRIVE SLOWLY IN TRAFFIC. Speed in urban areas should be reduced to cope with surrounding conditions.

RIGHT-OF-WAY. When a question arises as to priority at unguarded intersections, the wise motorists let the other car through.

SOBER DRIVING. Even a little liquor dulls the mental faculties.

JEFFERSON TEAMS ENJOY OVERNIGHT TRIP TO SONORA

Members of Jefferson high school's varsity and 30 basketball teams, 38 in all, were treated to an overnight trip to Sonora on Dec. 19.

Although both local aggregations were defeated by the strong northern cagers, the trip was deemed a success. The 30s lost out in an overtime, 51-50 while the varsity was downed 63-55.

The trek marked the first time in history that any PAL team has gone on an overnight trip.

Sonora's superintendent of schools was so impressed with the activity that he said it might be made an annual affair.

The local lads visited the snow and then journeyed to the ghost town of Columbia. Jeff Basketball Coach described the educational aspects of the trip by saying:

Blanchard hit 19 points, while Don Delbon scored 13.

The 30s won their contest, 42-28.

JEFF VARSITY WHIPS WASHINGTON; 30s LOSE OUT IN FINAL MINUTES

Jefferson's high-flying Indian varsity knocked over Washington high of San Francisco Tuesday night, 36-30, while the local 30s were edged out, 34-23.

Although the score in the un-mitted game would indicate a close contest, it was from that. The Jeffs led 20-10 at half-time, and allowed Washington only six points in the second half, until the final minute, when Coach Mike Brlich cleared the bench.

Don Delbon, forward, led scoring again with 19 points. Larry Blanchard and Wayne Lovelace accounted for six and seven, respectively.

The 30s had a tie game going into the last two minutes but couldn't make the final thrust to capture the contest.

The Jeff cagers will work out once more during the holiday vacation and then begin regular drills Monday in preparation for their first league contest, to be played at Half Moon Bay on Jan. 13.

Many Vets Attend School Under Cal-Vet This Term

Thousands of California veterans of World War II are enrolled in college programs over the state under their "Cal-Vet" educational benefits this term, Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo county, reported today, urging state World War II veterans to check on their eligibility for state educational benefits.

The program has assisted more than 33,000 California veterans in completing their education since the war ended, Granger said. "Cal-Vet" educational benefits are separate from Federal benefits, he stressed, and have been used by thousands of California veterans who made use of their Federal educational entitlements and needed state assistance in order to complete their educational program.

Eligible for state educational assistance are veterans of World War II who were born in California or entered military service from the state.

Granger said the California Veterans Educational Institute, established after World War II to administer the state program, can assist a qualified veteran to a maximum of $1000 in monthly payments toward tuition, school supplies and maintenance. Veterans may draw up to $50 a month in state assistance under the program, the service officer added.

He invited state World War II veterans interested in further schooling to inquire about the "Cal-Vet" program at the Veterans Service Office, 517 Marshall street in Redwood City, directly in back of the courthouse.

OLD SUPERSTITIONS Still Abound in Modern World

Many superstitions surrounding New Year's Day still abound in the modern world, the old practices finding many adherents.

In many parts of New England it is considered unlucky for anyone to go out of the house on New Year's Day until someone has entered.

To bring good luck and prosperity through the new year, Texans and residents of other southwestern states make a point of including black-eyed peas on the New Year's day menu.

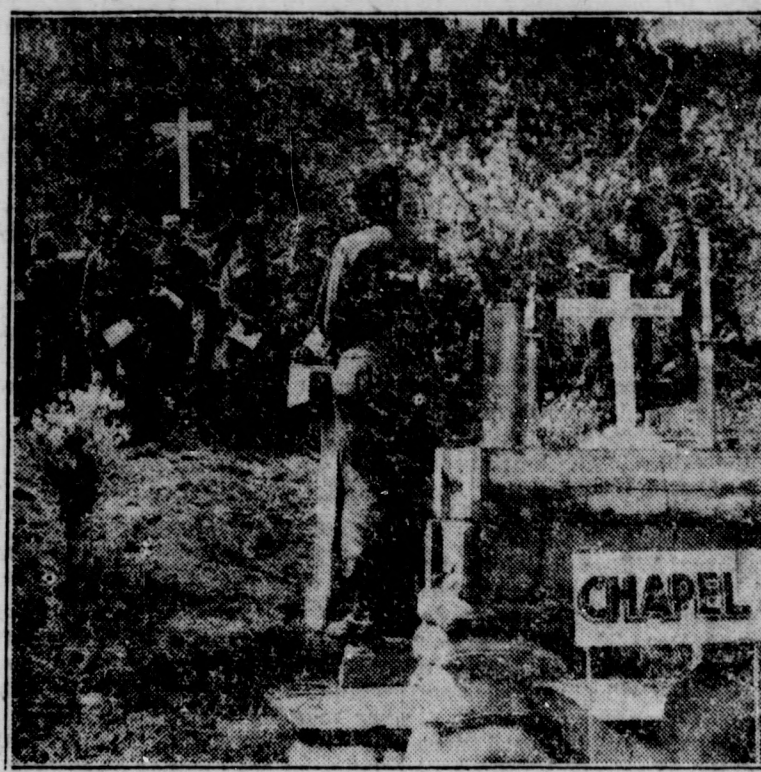

People in many parts of the world believe that a full salt shaker on New Year's Day is the symbol of a year of plenty and good fortune. The superstition, it is believed, can be traced to the days when salt was a precious item in the household.

In England and Scotland it is customary for young people to rush to the nearest spring or well at midnight. Whoever first tastes the water that is drawn will have good luck through the new year.

Another superstition prevailing in England, particularly in the Lancashire area, is that it is an ill omen for a person to share a lighted match with another on New Year's morning.

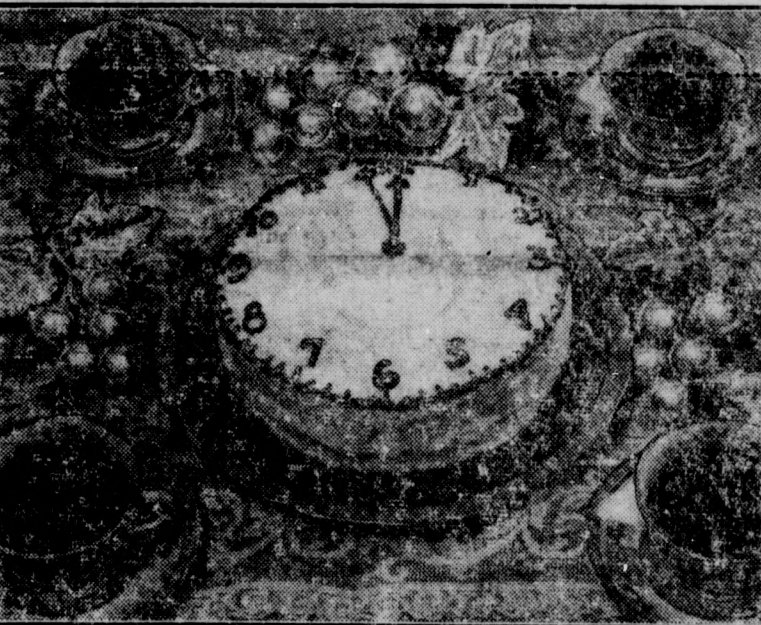

Frequently in Scotland funeral services for the old year are held during the waning hours of New Year's Eve.

Residents of the Isle of Man believe a dark complexioned person entering the house on New Year's morning will bring good luck while a blonde visitor is the bearer of misfortune.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES are held in Korea within rifle range of the Communists. In the U.S. Army, there is one chaplain for each 850 soldiers. There are no chaplains in Red armies.

A Timely Cake for New Year's Eve

BY the time the New Year rolls around, you will probably have set some sort of record for plain and fancy holiday cooking. For the final entry of 1952 here's a party cake for New Year's Eve that will do much for your reputation for originality as well as excellence in cookery.

Made from a white cake mix, it is frosted with a snowy white frosting and decorated with the face of a clock. The minute and hour hands indicate two minutes to midnight of the old year.

Since the frosting is the crowning glory of any cake, this one made with sweetened condensed milk, a creamy combination of whole milk and sugar, is bound to add to your culinary record. Save some of the frosting—about a half cup of it—and mix it with a square of melted chocolate. Then outline the clock with the aid of a pastry tube. Before you put the face of the clock on top of your New Year's Eve cake, lightly mark the numbers, the minute and hour hands with a tooth pick.

Magic White Frosting
(Makes about 1 1/2 cups)
2 tablespoons butter
3/4 cup sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar

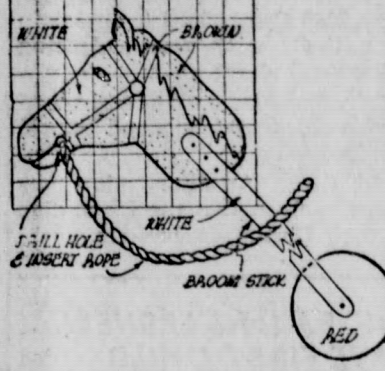

Cream butter. Blend in half of the sweetened condensed milk. Stir in vanilla. Gradually beat in sugar, alternating with remaining sweetened condensed milk. Frosting will be of a thin spreading consistency.

Old-Fashioned Plaything

EVEN in this streamlined age of television and jet planes, the child of two to six enjoys a toy that's quite primitive, like a hobby horse. It makes no difference if you can't purchase one, because making one is a cinch for the proud Dad.

The only parts needed are an old broom stick, two pieces of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Preswood, a four-inch wooden or metal wheel from an old wagon, a piece of rope, and some paint—white, red and brown.

Following the diagram shown here, Dad can lay out the head pattern on the Tempered Preswood. He will cut out two heads with a coping or jig saw and glue their screened sides together so that only the smooth faces will be exposed.

He'll select the desired length of broomstick and cut slots into which the head and wheel are bolted. After applying a prime coat of paint, he can cover the various parts with colors as shown. The youngster will thoroughly enjoy this old-fashioned plaything.

Pack 248 Yuletide Party Is Success

Thursday night, Dec. 18, was a big occasion for the cub scouts of Pack 248. For many weeks the cubs had been working for the night, setting up ornaments and decorations for the hall and their Christmas tree, donated by Cheroli's nursery.

Each den made gifts to present to their parents, such as coasters, ceramic ash trays, silhouettes, piggy banks and hangers for pot holders.

Santa also visited the youngsters and had a present for all the cubs and their little brothers and sisters.

Following Christmas carols, cookies and ice cream in the form of Santa Claus and Christmas trees were served.

Much credit for success of the party went to Merv Huthmacher, who worked untiringly on the project.

Pack 248 parents are scheduled to meet at the club house on the night of Jan. 12 at 8 p.m.

All parents are requested to attend in the interest of their sons' membership in the pack.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

A PRETTY PIE IS THE BEST CHOICE FOR A "SPECIAL DINNER" DESSERT

by the

General Electric Consumers Institute

Looking for a special dessert for a special occasion?

There's guaranteed "guest appeal" in a Toasted Coconut Mousse Pie. And it appeals to the busy homemaker, too. Because it's unusual enough for the fanciest dinner party—and yet it's easy to make, with an electric mixer to do the beating for you, and it doesn't even require baking!

Here's the recipe, from the General Electric Consumers Institute:

Toasted Coconut Mousse Pie

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1/4 cups fine water cooky crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

2 cups heavy cream
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup shredded coconut, toasted

Pour mixture into chocolate cooky pie shell; sprinkle cooky crumbs in scalloped design about 1 inch from edge of crust. Freeze firm.

Mix chocolate wafer cooky crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar. Add butter; blend thoroughly. Press mixture evenly and firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Whip cream stiff; fold in confectioners' sugar. Add vanilla extract and coconut; fold in. Lastly, fold in egg whites.

And here's the Toasted Coconut Mousse Pie, ready for serving. If you want to prepare it ahead of time, you can freeze pie until filling is firm, then wrap in moisture-vaporproof material, label and place in food freezer. To serve, just unwrap pie and serve immediately. If filling is too firm, let pie stand 5-10 minutes at room temperature.

IF YOU CAN WASH IT, BABY MAY CHEW IT

THERE COMES A TIME IN EVERY BABY'S LIFE when the whole world looks edible to him. Small jaws sink lustily into anything from a rattle to the sides of a playpen. Any old thing he happens to find on the floor goes quickly into his mouth.

It's a period when mother must be especially vigilant to assure that everything within baby's grasp is safely clean. This is made a great deal easier if everything in the nursery is entirely washable and can be sucked with a sponge or put into the washing machine often to keep them safe and sweet.

When choosing furniture for baby's room, make sure that its surface can be washed periodically. The crib and playpen, constant objects of delight for baby's mouth, should be wiped off with soapsuds every few days.

Choose plasticized or permanently glazed draperies and slipcovers which can be washed in tub or machine—and wiped off with a soft cloth or sponge between actual launderings. Incidentally, don't soak slip covers. Wash by machine, or immerse them in warm soapy water with about three inches of standing suds. Leave them for five to seven minutes, then swish them through suds, rubbing soiled spots. Repeat in a second fresh suds, if necessary. Rinse well, ease to shape and spread them to dry over two parallel lines. If covers are replaced while still damp, they'll snuggle back into place while drying—smoothly and without ironing.

Hooked or tufted cotton rugs are the easiest to keep spotless. Small rugs can be done in the washing machine. However, room-sized rugs can be kept quite clean with frequent shampooing. To do this successfully, pour a minimum of warm water into a pail, add soap, and whip up a rich mound of soapsuds, using an egg-beater. Then lift dry suds from the pail and sponge them firmly into a small section of the rug. Wipe quickly with sponge wrung out of clear water, and finally pat with a dry cloth to remove excess moisture. Repeat until the entire rug is clean—starting each section within the one just completed. (ANS Features)

D. C. Garden Club Holds House Tour

The Daly City Garden club has had two exciting events during the month of December. Their first Pot Luck Supper, held December 2, turned out to be such a success that there will surely be many more of them on the club agenda.

The meeting room was gaily decorated for Christmas with gum drop trees on the tables, and beautiful candy wreaths, made by members, adorned the walls. This was a family party so after the dinner the members sat back and were entertained by the children; later dancing was enjoyed by all.

The regular Holiday House Tour took place the evening of December 29. Homes of eight members were visited, and it would be impossible to say which home looked most festive.

Just a few of the highlights were a Mexican Snow Man watching Santa soar through the sky at the home of Leslie and Henry de Leon. Oversize lollipops were growing in Dick and Dora Hunter's patio garden. The view from windows of the DiMaggio's social room looked like a twinkling Christmas card, and the beautiful nativity scene in the home of Bernice and Claire Yohn made each visitor remember our real reason for celebrating Christmas.

Refreshments were served in each home ending with a buffet supper at the Yohn's. This is one evening every member circles on his calendar and never misses. Each year seems to surpass the year before.

Now it is time to settle down to a New Year of business. The next regular meeting will be held in our meeting room, 101 Parkview, January 6 at 8 p.m. The program chairman has planned an interesting program. Mrs. Harry Walker will be the guest speaker. Her subject will be "How to Plan for a Garden Show."
